

OPERAWIRE

Elena Mosuc's 'La Rondine' To Be Televised

By Francisco Salazar

May 28, 2019

Elena Mosuc's acclaimed performance of Puccini's "La Rondine" is set to hit TV screens in Spain.

The concert performances of Puccini's late work, which received rave reviews, will be transmitted on TV on LA 2. The performance was held at the Teatro Monumental and was conducted by Maestro Miguel Ángel Gómez-Martínez. It also starred Roberto Iuliano, Olena Sloia, and Mariusz Brenciu.

Mosuc is also set to re-team with Maestro Gómez-Martínez for a Gala at the Teatro Monumental RTVE Symphonic Orchestra on May 31, 2019. The soprano will also make her role debut as Giselda in the first-ever production of "I Lombardi" in Romania. These performances follow her acclaimed role debut as "Lakme" at the Royal Opera Muscat.

The televised performance of "La Rondine" is scheduled for June 2019.